Dear Parents and Friends of Heartland Community Schools,

We are looking forward to a new school year. We trust it will be an exciting and eventful year for each Heartland student. Our commitment is to provide the best possible education for each student. We hope you as parents will continue to work with us, as you have in past years, to make this happen. We want each student to feel safe while at school and to have an experience that will enrich each of their lives.

I know our principals, Mrs. Huebert, elementary principal, and Mr. Carr, secondary principal, are also committed to providing an excellent education for each student. Don't hesitate to call any of us if you have questions or concerns about your child's education. We encourage you to talk first with your student's classroom teacher and if you still have questions, please feel free to give us a call.

The 2010-2011 school year will bring a few new faces to Heartland as well as new assignments and responsibilities for current staff members. Some of the following information is a repeat of what was in the summer newsletter, but we want you to become acquainted with the new personnel at Heartland.

Jon Baehr will join the staff as a part-time 3rd grade teacher and part-time Title I instructor. He will also serve as the head boys' basketball and girls' golf coach. Jon comes from York where he has been teaching for the past two years. Prior to teaching in York, he taught five years at Cedar Bluffs. He served as a head and assistant basketball coach, assistant golf coach, assistant football and assistant track coach. Jon is a graduate of Southern High School and has his BA degree from Midland Lutheran College. Jon and his wife Terri have a two-year-old son, Koda.

Jessica Friesen Tessman will be the new secretary in the principal's office. She will replace Brenda Hiebner, who is retiring. Jessica is a 1997 graduate of Henderson High School and received her Bachelor of Science in Business Administration from UNL in December of 2001. She has worked in both Lincoln and Omaha, most recently for National Indemnity Insurance Company. Jessica and her husband Chad have two children, Ava, who will be in kindergarten at Heartland in the fall, and 7 month old Julia. Jessica began work on July 5.

Greg Veerhusen, 6th grade teacher, will be the new head girls, basketball coach. Greg also serves as an assistant football coach. Greg served as the assistant girl's basketball coach during last school year.

Susan Mazour, 8-12 social studies teacher, will be the new boys, golf coach for the 2010-2011 school year. She also serves as the junior high volleyball coach. She served as an assistant track coach the past several years.

Cole Blomendahl, Agriculture Education instructor, will serve as assistant varsity football for next year. He had served as assistant Junior High football coach the past two years.

Lee Smith will serve as the assistant Junior High football coach for the 2010-2011 school year. Lee has served as a substitute teacher this past year. He also is pastor of the Crossroads Bible Fellowship Congregation North of Henderson. Lee and his wife Ashley have three children: Jaci, 5; Taylee, 3; and Bo 1.

Jami Schmidt will serve as assistant volleyball coach. Jami and her husband Grant have a 4-year-old son, Austin and live in Henderson.

Heartland still has the following openings for the 2010-2011 school year:

- 1-Assistant coaches in boys' and girls' basketball
- 2-Three school bus drivers

Bus routes are included in this newsletter. On the bus routes in Bradshaw, when possible, we are making the stops in the middle of the block rather than at the intersections. We feel this helps to make it safer for children when they are getting on and off of the bus. If you see safety problems with any of our bus routes, please give us a call and we will try to make adjustments when possible.

I would like to take this opportunity to give a special welcome to all of our new families to the district. We hope you and your children will have a good experience at Heartland. Don't hesitate to call us if you have questions or concerns.

Sincerely,
Dr. Norm Yoder, Superintendent

The “No Child Left Behind Act” Calls for New Requirements of the School District

The new federal legislation included in the “No Child Left Behind Act” requires that schools release the names, addresses, and telephone numbers of all students in grades 9-12 to any military and/or college recruiters that request them. Parents have the right to request that this information not be released without their permission. All parents of students in grades 9-12 will receive a letter with a waiver form attached. This form needs to be filled out and returned to the school to block your child’s name from being released. If you do not receive a letter and form, please call the school office and one will be sent to you. If you have any questions, please call the school office for further information.

ASBESTOS NOTIFICATION

The Environmental Protection Agency regulation requires that all patrons and employees of the Heartland Community Schools-Henderson/Bradshaw be notified as to the location of asbestos-containing materials in the school building.

Recent inspections conducted by ATC Environmental, Inc. of Omaha confirmed earlier inspections conducted in 1983 that there is pipe insulation containing asbestos particles in several locations in the Henderson Attendance Center. These are located in the old gym, the stage, and several maintenance storage areas. Although the pipe insulation does contain asbestos particles, ATC Environmental Inc. found them to be properly encapsulated and therefore pose no threat to the students or employees of Heartland Community Schools. Management plans, as required by law, have been filed with the State Health Department and should the materials become damaged in any way, the proper action will be taken by school personnel to insure a safe environment for all students and employees. School Superintendent Norm Yoder and Maintenance Director Matt Quiring have received special training, as required by the EPA, to deal with any asbestos related incidents. If any employees have questions or observe any damage to any asbestos covered materials, they should contact the superintendent’s office. A detailed diagram of existing asbestos locations in the school building may be obtained from the superintendent’s office. A copy of the management plan is available for public inspection in the superintendent’s office.

TYKE Preschool Now Taking Applications for Peer Students for 2010-11 School Year

The Heartland Community School has provided early intervention services to preschool-aged children for over 20 years through TYKE, which stands for Talking for Young Kids' Education. TYKE is run by the Educational Service Unit #6.

Each year, TYKE invites parents of children ages 3 to 5 who have age-appropriate abilities to apply for their child to be peer models for the program. Parents of these children pay a tuition fee, with financial scholarships available to those families who qualify. Sessions for the 2010-11 school year will begin August 23.

The inclusion of peer model students serves two purposes: to provide modeling opportunities for the children who are verified to receive early intervention services, and to provide a more natural preschool environment that represents the make-up of the community. Our goal is to have an even ratio of peer models and children who qualify for early intervention services.

Every effort is made to accept all peers who apply or to recommend other area preschools to the parents if the TYKE sessions are full. TYKE sessions will run 4 half-days per week, with 3-4 year-old children attending in the mornings and 4-5 year-olds in the afternoons. Parents may choose to send their children for two, three, or all four days.

Interested parents in the Heartland School District are invited to complete the application form that is an insert in this newsletter. If parents have specific questions, they can call the school (723-4434) or stop by to talk to Dot Quiring, the TYKE teacher.

TEACH YOUR MIDDLE SCHOOLER NOT TO SET REALISTIC ACADEMIC GOALS

Your child may be a whiz when it comes to completing assignments on time. But how well does she actually study? That is, how good is she at reading and absorbing material when there's nothing to hand in?

Studying isn't the same as "doing homework," because there's no particular task to complete. Instead, a successful study session hinges on your child's ability to go over text or materials and retain the information for later.

To help your child study more effectively, encourage her to:

- Take notes on what she's reading. It'll help her distill the material down to its most important parts.
- Make flashcards or other aids. She may be more apt to use study tools she's created herself.
- Pay attention to illustrations and charts. These textbook "extras" often contain valuable data that may appear later on a test.
- Describe what she's just read in her own words. If she - can't, it's very likely she didn't understand the material in the first place.

Of course, even the best study habits won't pack much punch unless they're used regularly--and in the right environment. To ensure your preteen gets the most out of her study sessions:

- Have her hit the books at the same time every night.
- Limit distractions. But that doesn't have to mean total silence. If she works well while listening to music, that's fine.
- Keep a dictionary out in the open. Yes, it's bulky and old-fashioned. It's also priceless. So get it down off the shelf!
